

Thank you Darling,

It was always easy to love you.

It's in human nature to love everything that has beauty

Outer beauty

Inner beauty

And beautiful is that which is dear and precious.

What is dear comes with love,

And unconditional love is rare.

It is said that only a mother's love is unconditional.

You were not a mother,

But you had unconditional love

For everyone.

You never set up conditions

To no one and for nothing.

It is said that in life,

the hardest thing is to have and then lose it.

You had a lot,

Because that is what you wanted,
You loved everyone,
And everything belonged to you.
And then taking it away.
All of it, till the last bit.

You can no longer walk,
But you are not upset.
You still love.

You cannot chew, swallow,
But you are not upset.
You still love.

You can no longer speak
But you are not upset.
You still love.

You love everyone, equally.
And those that love you the way you are
And show it to you.
And those who have disappeared

Because they thought
That you are no longer there.
But they didn't know that you are still here.
That you still equally love them, and need them
And that you don't hold a grudge against them.

And then,
You can no longer breathe,
But your heart keeps beating
As it's full of love.
Your face enlightens
And finds yet another way
To show the unconditional love.

The heart has stopped beating.
You are no longer with us,
But yes you are,
You still love us.

It is said that
The perpetual motion hasn't been invented,
But they might not be aware that it might have been.
You still produce love,
And yet the heart has stopped beating,
Isn't that it?
If love is energy,
And it is,
Because it keeps us moving,
You proved it.

Thank you, darling,
For having decided that
It was me who would give birth to you.
Thank you.

Your mom.
